Weekend tragedy

Youth drowns in lake

A 19-year-old Delaware man drowned at Holiday Lake Sunday, after the paddle boat in which he was riding overturned, according to state police.

The body of Theodore Towns of Newark, Del., was recovered at approximately 5:15 p.m. by Appomattox County Rescue Squad personnel, according to police. The accident occured around 5:15 p.m.

Towns, a student at the Old Dominion Job Corps Center in Monroe, Va., was with another student on the lake when their paddleboat overturned according to police.

A canoe with two other students had overturned before the paddleboat flipped, and the canoeists had grabbed hold of the paddleboat, accidentally overturning it.

Towns drowned while trying to swim to shore for help, according to police.

The other students stayed with the paddleboat and were later helped to shore.

Aiding the Appomattox Rescue Squad in recovery operations were state police divers, as well as the rescue squads of Buckingham, Gladstone, Concord, and Prince Edward County.

The accident was investigated by the state police and the Appomattox County Sheriff's Department.

Registration planned for adult classes

Registration for first-semester adult education classes will start this week.

Adults who are interested and who want to participate in classes that are being offered the first semester by the Appomattox County School Divisioh are requested to register now by calling 352-8253 between the hours of 8:30 - 5:00 or by mailing in a registration form.

Please look at the class schedule located elsewhere in this issue of the Times-Virginian for information concerning classes offered.

"It is very important that persons pre-register for classes," states R. B. Carter, Coordinator of Adult Education. "Pre-registration is used to determine whether enrollment is sufficient to offer a particular class. An enrollment of ten persons is required for a class to be offered."

Persons who desire information concerning an adult class are requested to contact the School Board Office by calling 352-8253.

Football contest starts

With this issue, the Times-Virginian launches its version of the annual readers' football contest.

For the next ten weeks, readers will have the opportunity to test their skill at predicting the outcome of key football games at the college, high school and professional levels.

The person who accurately predicts the outcome of the most games each week will be declared the winner and receive a $10 cash prize. The second-place winner will receive a $5 cash prize each week.

Full details on how to play the game are found on the contest page.

Winners of the football contest will be announced in the paper each week.

School board to meet

The Appomattox County School Board will meet Tuesday (Sept. 9) at 4 p.m. in the school board office for its regular monthly meeting.

Along with regular monthly reports, board members will consider a proposed student-attendance policy, and approve parents nominated to serve on the advisory council for the gifted and talented prorgram and the central planning program.

Board members will also consider an agreement with the Lynchburg Community Action Group, Inc., to provide work experience opportunities for eligible students.

Dove season opens

The Appomattox County Clerk's office will be open this Saturday (Sept. 6) from 9 a.m. to noon for the sale of hunting and fishing licenses only, according to Barbara Williams, clerk of the circuit court.

Dove season opens this Saturday at noon, and runs until Nov. 1. The season reopens Dec. 20 and extends through Jan. 1. Hunting hours are from noon to sunset each day. The bag limit this year is 12 birds per day.

The fee for a state hunting license this year is $7.50.

Almost done

A $196,000 ROAD improvement project at Holiday Lake is nearing completion, according to officials of the state Department of Highways and Transportation. The project involves upgrading of roads leading into the Holiday Lake 4-H Center. Funds for the work were approved last year, and work began earlier this summer. Among improvements made to the access routes are surfacing of roads, and straightening sharp curves. In the above photo, highway Department workers Henry Roach, W. R. Oberstreet, and Clayton Cyrus take a brether while putting the finishing touches to a segment of road near the 4-H Center.

COUNTRY AND BLUEGRASS bands entertained spectators at the MD Telethon Center on Monday. The Country Drifters (above) were one of several groups to entertain local residents during the two-day fund raising event for the Muscular Dystrophy fund.

Locals raise $2700 for MD telethon drive

Appomattox raised more than $2700 in its first Muscular Dystrophy telethon Sunday and Monday, according to Mayor Ronald C. Spiggle.

Workers manned telephones in the town hall Sunday night and Monday, as town and county residents phoned in their contribution pledges.

The town hall was a center of bustling activity Monday as country and bluegrass music filled the air, while clowns danced about entertaining children who had gathered to observe the festivities.

A large crowd visited the telethon center at town hall, and dropped money into a fish bowl provided there for contributions. Mayor Spiggle said more than $800 was collected that way.

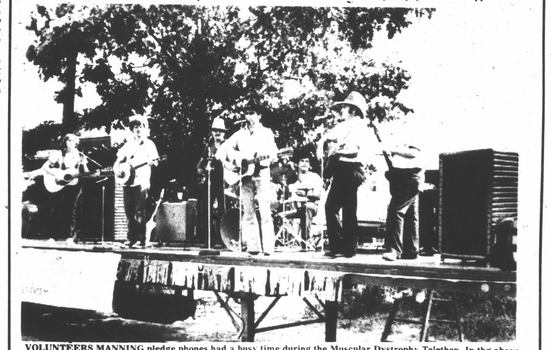
Many locals got to go "on the air," as WTTX radio, Annomattox, conducted a live broadcast from the town hall MD Telethon center.

Spiggle expressed his appreciation to "all the wonderful people in Appomattox and in this area who gave so much to our telethon by donating money or time, to make our first Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon a great success (see letter, page 4)."

Early Tuesday, $2,722.90 in contributions had been counted, and Spiggle said there were still some collection cannisters out.

"It was a great start for our first year," Spiggle concluded. "We're looking forward to making this an annual event, bigger and better each year."

MANY SPECTATORS at the town hall Monday became so enthused with the music that they joined in an impromptu dance. Young and old seemed to enjoy the festivities, which highlighted a fund drive which netted $2739 for the Muscular Dystrophy fund from Appomattox.



VOLUNTEERS MANNING pledge phones had a busy time during the Muscular Dystrophy Telethon. In the above photo Robin Britton, Nelwyn Morris, Becky Lawson, Ramona Gagneur, Theo Lewis and Wendy Gagneur check incoming pledges as the total donated tops $1000.

According to my calendar, September 22 is the first day of Autumn. The welcome mat will be out, for we have had a hot, dry summer. September and October team up as among the choice months of the year. Nature chips in, with loveliness to sell. Who knows, maybe we will even get some rain! May have set a record for no ball games cancelled or called on account of rain. And a salute to our Town for not running out of water.

Labor Day appeared to be awesomely quiet in my neck of the woods. I heard a pin drop about 11:42 a.m. Many businesses and offices were closed for the holiday. Doubtless a lot of folks went to the beaches, pools, lakes, mountains, or just stayed home. And some did not come back, as traffic deaths were up for the holiday period. I do not remember much about Labor Day events in the old days, save that there was a doubleheader ball game. Next holiday: Columbus Day, Oct. 13. And no Friday the thirteen in sight of 1980.

Offhand, I do not know of any Appomattox players who will be on college football teams this fall. Perhaps I missed in checking. I am informed that Bill Jamerson, local businessman and former star at VPI, has a full schedule to officiate in games this season, including Saturday's Univ. of Virginia - Navy game. Bill is an experienced and most capable football official.

Bro. Albert Moore came by a few days ago to show me a valuable picture of Confederate General J. E. B. Stuart. He acquired it at an auction Equally interesting was a nice chat with Mr. Moore. He is a Navy veteran and likes history. Served on the USS Wisconsin and got to visit many foreign lands. Greatly impressed by the beautiful scenery in Norway, which he saw in an October setting. Also was impressed by the friendliness and skill of the Japanese people. Also noted that wherever one went, there was always someone who could speak English. Mr. Moore is a native of Tennessee, was no. 9 in a family of twelve children; has four children, retired. Thanks for the visit.

When one speaks of the ACHS Raiders, that means the Appomattox County High School football team. However, that is also the name of the Amelia County High School football team.

I made a mistake. Passed a street corner in town and two enterprising youngsters were offering cold lemonade for sale. 'Twas a hot day and I should have stopped and become a customer. But I was in a hurry and kept going. Sorry about that.

Anytime is a good time to prune dead limbs off trees and shrubs and for me "anytime" was Saturday. With skilled help, got shed of nearly a truck load of such in a one-day clean-up. Just because it is too dry to cut grass does not mean there's nothing to do outside.

With colleges opening this month, do a good deed and see that the hometown weekly newspaper is sent to our students.

Thanks for reading and seeya around.

As Welfare Board president

Robinson is re-elected

Richard Donald Robinson was honored with reelection as chairman of the Public Welfare Board of Appomattox at the August meeting.

Robinson, a member of the Board since 1974 when he was appointed to serve an unexpired term, was recently appointed by the county governing body to fill the second full term of office. Previously Mr. Robinson served in the offices of chairman and vice-chairman.

Re-elected as vice-chairman of the Board was Tommy S. Drinkard. Mr. Drinkard was appointed to Board membership in July 1979 with the retirement of Mr. Clayton Martin who had served as a Board member for eight years.

Mr. Horace Coleman, Supervisor from Clover Hill District, represents the Appomattox County Board of Supervisors on the Welfare Board.

Mr. Robinson, the owner of Robinson Funeral Home and immediate past president of Appomattox Lions Club, is an active participant in civic and Religious community affairs. Mr. Robinson is married to the former Ann Martin. They are the parents of two children: Donna Louise and Richard Kinkle Robinson.

Mr. Drinkard who resides in the Oakville area of the county is an assistant lay leader of Trinity United Methodist Church. He is a member of the musical group, "Fellowship Four and Jackie". Mr. Drinkard is assistant manager of the Hardware and Sales Manager Departments with the Lynchburg based office of Barker Jennings Corporation. Drinkard is married to the former Nell Daley. They are the parents of three sons: Mark, Scott, and Jeff.

Horace Coleman, who retired to Appomattox County from Norfolk in 1972 resides with his wife in the Pamplin area of the county. The Colemans are the parents of five children.

Coleman, a retired insurance broker with a self owned Norfolk based firm has been active in the Lions Club, scouting and other civic organizations. Mr. Colemat is an active member with Central Virginia Mental Health Services, the Central Virginia Manpower Advisory Commission, The Regional Planning Advisory Committee, the Central Virginia Commission on Aging, the Appomattox County Planning Commission, and the Appomattox County Development Corporation.

In addition to other functional duties of the administrative board members, they are the liaison with the county governing body and the community at large. The mission of the Public Welfare Board is to "assist the needy to the extent that their own self effectiveness will help individuals and families to move to achievement of their own self support and financial independence."
